Children
Children represent the future existence of your line, your hopes, and your values. The birth of a child is the beginning of an extension on your own life. Children also represent innocence, joy, and an open perspective on the world.