Week 3.6 Images of nature (trees)

Nature
Without the world we live in, there would be no humanity. Without the foundation afforded us by the sun, the water, and the land, we would not be able to build families, homes, or civilizations. It is the resources within a populated region that define its course of development.

Trees
Like animals, trees and other plant life can represent the geographic areas to which they are indigenous. To many cultures, trees have mythological meanings behind them. They are also in line with my theme of eco-friendly symbols.
